

Food in Art January 2–March 16, 2018

Reception: January 18, 4:00–6:00 pm

Gallery hours: Monday–Friday 10:00 am–5:00 pm

Open until 8:00 pm for Third Thursday

All events take place at the TCC Art Gallery at the Tacoma Campus unless otherwise stated.

Donations will be accepted for the TCC Food Pantry during the exhibition.

Food in Literature and Film

January 2–March 16, TCC Library, Building 7

A book and film display organized by Jill Merritt.

This fascinating display takes you on a journey of art through literature and film around the globe. The display is open during regular library hours; materials displayed are available for checkout.

Japanese Dishes

January 26, 12:00–12:30 pm, TCC Art Gallery

A gallery talk by Rick Mahaffey.

TCC's art professor, Rick Mahaffey's, invites you to join him on a journey of exploration through Japanese cuisine!

Your Gastrointestinal Tract: An Alimentary Journey

January 29, 11:00 am, TCC Art Gallery

A gallery talk by Mary Stobie.

Mary Stobie, TCC Nursing professor, is prepared to take you on a different journey, An Alimentary Journey.

Poetry Reading: Music, Food, and Love

February 7, 7:00–8:00 pm, TCC Art Gallery

Michael Magee is the "coordinator" for the Poetry Box at Freighthouse Square. His most recent books include Vanishing Points: From Ballarat to Ravenna Park, and Dementia: Love is a Blur. Join Michael at the Gallery for inspirational reading on Music, Food, and Love in poetry. Bring a poem!

Food of the Gods: Chocolate

February 9, 1:30 pm, TCC Gig Harbor Campus

February 14, noon and 6:00 pm, TCC Art Gallery

A lecture with tastings by Marlene Bosanko.

Did you know chocolate was once a banned food?

Do you think there is good and bad chocolate?

Did you know that 5 out of ten people love chocolate and together we consume 60 million pounds of it annually?

Marlene Bosanko self describes as a passionate chocolate scholar. She pursues academic research on Chocolate, the Food of the Gods, regularly teaches classes about chocolate, and holds private tastings. She has presented papers to academic circles in Idaho, Montana, Washington, Oregon, and California. On the speaking circuit, she was once paired with a cardiologist who addressed the health benefits of red wine, while she addressed the health benefits of chocolate. Bosanko claims to have inherited the chocolate gene; she knows that chocolate does not only taste good, it is also very good for you! Bosanko's talk will trace the history of chocolate from its beginnings in the New World to the Old World and back again. We'll do some tasting along the way and end by raising a cup of chocolate and saying, "Thanks Q!" And you'll know why.

continued other side >

Food in Art January 2–March 16, 2018

Reception: January 18, 4:00–6:00 pm

Gallery hours: Monday–Friday 10:00 am–5:00 pm

Open until 8:00 pm for Third Thursday

All events take place at the TCC Art Gallery at the Tacoma Campus unless otherwise stated.

Donations will be accepted for the TCC Food Pantry during the exhibition.

Chocolate Casting

February 21, 12:30–2:00 pm, Building 5

Demonstration by Kyle Dillehay and students.

TCC art professor Kyle Dillehay and his students will do a hands-on demonstration of casting with chocolate in the sculpture classroom.

Food in Art

February 27, 12:15–12:45 pm, TCC Art Gallery

A gallery talk by Marit Berg.

TCC's art professor and chair, Marit Berg will add a new taste to your sense and understanding of art as she explores the role and influence of food in art.

Out of Eden

February 28, 5:30–7:00 pm, TCC Art Gallery

Food performance by Ben Meeker.

An examination of vegetarian philosophy in six courses.

Out of Eden is a six course vegetarian meal prepared for six "diners", served within a sculpted environment. Each course begins with a spoken word performance or literary reading followed by a dish that represents or reflects that course. The courses are designed to follow a Biological/Anthropological/Psychological/Philosophical evolution both literarily and culinary. Meeker provides the conversational stimulus and culinary rumination. The "Art" is the dinner conversation between guests as they consume the stimuli and the meal.

Pop Food

March 9, 1:00–1:30 pm, TCC Art Gallery

A gallery talk by Michael Huffman.

TCC's professor of humanities and composition studies, Michael Huffman, invites you to explore and appreciate a whole other side of food: pop food

Art History Book Club, 12:00–1:00 pm

January 3, 2018: Priya Parmer, Vanessa and Her Sister (2015)

February 7, 2018: Deborah Davis,
Strapless: John Singer Sargent and the Fall of Madame X (2003)

March 7, 2018: Harriet Scott Chessman,
Lydia Cassatt Reading the Morning Paper (2008)

The Gallery at Tacoma Community College

Director: Jennifer Olson, Ph.D.

www.tacomacc.edu/TheGallery

phone: 253.460.4306

6501 S. 19th St., Bldg. 4 Tacoma, WA 98466

Tacoma Community College values diversity and is an Equal Opportunity Employer and Educator. TCC provides equal opportunity in education and employment and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, creed, religion, or status as a veteran of war. Prohibited sex discrimination includes sexual harassment (unwelcome sexual conduct of various types). TCC provides reasonable accommodations for qualified students, employees, and applicants with disabilities in accordance with the American with Disabilities Act and Federal Rehabilitation Act. Beth Brooks, Title II and Title IX, 253.566.5054 Shema Hanebutte, 504 Officer, 253.566.6006