

Tacoma Community College 2026 – 2027 FINAL EXAM SCHEDULE

Final exam schedules for Fall, Winter, and Spring quarters are shown below. All exams are expected to be held according to this schedule; requests for exceptions must be submitted in writing and approved in advance by the appropriate dean or division manager. No regular day classes are held during the final exam period. Some final exams may be scheduled for a weekday on which the class does not normally meet, or at a time that does not match the class's regular start time. Faculty are encouraged to include the final exam date and time on their syllabus.

Final exam days are contract work days for faculty and are considered instructional days during which teaching and learning activities continue. Faculty should be available to confer with students as appropriate. Faculty assigning final papers or projects may choose to collect them at the scheduled final exam time; if not, students (and any college staff involved) should be told clearly where and when such assignments are due.

100% online courses and fully cohort-based programs will schedule their own examinations. All Physical Education classes and other one-credit classes will have their finals during the last regular class period.

All evening, late-afternoon (3:00 PM or later), and Saturday classes have their final exam at the same time the class regularly meets, as noted within each quarter below.
